

Diablo-Immortal Exploding Palm Monk

Fists of Thunder: This Primary Skill is the base attack that every Monk will start with, and can be leveled up to rank 11 or up to 14 with the right charm equipped.

In addition to the Primary attack, Monks have up to 12 skills to choose from, and may equip up to 4 of them at time. If you're looking to build the best Monk Exploding Palm build whilst playing solo, we suggest picking these skills:

- Cyclone Strike – Generate a vortex of wind which pulls in enemies and deals damage. Charging longer increases range and damage.
- Seven-Sided Strike (Unlocked at Level 8) – Dash rapidly between nearby enemies, striking 7 times, dealing damage each time. Additional hits on the same target deal only 50% of normal damage.
- Mystic Strike (Unlocked at Level 15) – Dash forward 4.5 yards and leave a spirit behind that will return to you, pulling all enemies in its path to you and dealing damage. Maximum 3 charges.
- Exploding Palm (Unlocked at Level 24) – Bleeding on them for 5 seconds. Enemies that die while Bleeding will explode, damaging nearby enemies. Enemies can only be hit 5 times within 1 second by these explosions, and starting with explosion 2 and beyond, take only 30% of normal damage. Maximum 2 charges.

Best Normal Gems for Monk in Diablo Immortal We appreciate it might take some time to acquire those legendary gems (more on them in a minute) so for the sake of covering our bases, here's a really quick guide on the best normal gems.

- Red Gems – Pick Tourmaline over Ruby, as a damage buff is better than a life buff.
- Blue Gems – Pick Sapphire over Aquamarine, as an armor penetration buff is preferable to an armor buff.
- Yellow Gems – It doesn't matter as both potency and resistance are pretty pointless stats. Just pick whichever Citrine or Topaz gem is the highest level.
